BEDFORD COUNTY MAP.

I Will make a directory map of Bedford County from actual surveys, if a sufficient number of subscribers can be raised to justify me in the enterprise.

The map will be large and well finished and will show the location of all the public roads streams, boundary lines, towns, villages, Hotels, Churches, School Houses, Post Offices, stores, grist mills, saw mills &c., &c., and will contain the names of all the property holders, and show the busines that almost each one is engaged in. I will put on the same sheet maps of all the towns and large villages, also tables and statistics of the County and (if taken in time) the census of 1860. Pains will be taken to make it as reliable as any Map in the State.

AN ADVENTURE IN INDIA.

"Your turn now, captain," was the exclamation of several parties, who were seated round the convivial board, telling stories, narrating adventures, singing songs, and drinking each other's healths.

"What will you have, gentlemen?"—inquired Captain S———, a small, wiry man of middle age, who had seen service in India.

"Oh, one of your most thrilling adventures," said one of the party; "for surely you must have had some, while stationed in that wild region which is said to teem with them."

"Ah! very well, gentlemen—I remember one that I think that will interest you, and here you have it. It was in the year 183–, that I joined my regiment, as a sub, at Bangalore, and not being used to such a climate, where the mercury runs up to 110 degs. in the spring, with no idea of coming down again till autumn, I soon found myself an invalid, and almost cursed the day that I had been tempted to leave cool old England for such a sweltering country. Some of my friends advised a trip to the Malabar coast, and I was nothing loth to try any change, believing even the worst I could possibly make must be for the better. So I procured a palanquin, and eight good bearers, to take a turn about, and set off forthwith, through as wild a country as poor mortal could wish to see.

"Nothing remarkable happened till we entered what is known as the Wynard Jungle, and if nothing had happened there I should have been tempted to indite the whole country as a libel on appearances. Such a jungle as that may I never behold again! Reeds, weeds, grass, brambles, and bushes were interlaced like a network beneath gigantic trees of teak, whose bows interlocked and canopied the whole, so that in many places the bright sunshine of heaven never penetrated to the earth; as I was borne along in my palagquin, on the shoulders of four timid coolies, while the other four walked leisurely behind, I had the satisfaction of knowing I was in a perfect wilderness inhabited by wild elephants, wild boars, tigers, leopards, hyenas, jackals, and any number of deadly reptiles, and that if we were attacked, by any ferocious beast, I should probably be deserted on the instant and left to take care of myself. And then fancy me at night, with all these howling beasts around me, attempting to sleep, amid all the poisonous exhalations of a malarious region, with millions, of musquitoes, motha and bugs, humming, buzzing, and perforating every pore of body, and you will form some faint idea of the pleasures of a sick man's journey.

"Well, one hot, sultry afternoon, when we had reached somewhere near the heart of this jungle, as I was leaning back on the seat of my palanquin, and dreamily listening to the drowsy, monotonous song of the bearers, I was suddenly roused and startled by two or three hoarse trumpet blasts, which proceeded from a wild elephant, who was crashing through the jungle at no great distance; but before I had time for a word, my attendants dropped me without ceremony, and betook themselves to flight. I leaped to my feet, with kind of delirous strength, and, knowing there was not a minute between me and eternity if I remaind where I then, I plunged into the copse, and ran like a madman in the direction opposite to the sounds of my advancing foe.

"Fortunately for me, I was only a few seconds in reaching the foot of a large teak tree, up which I began to climb as only a man may climb for life. I heard the monster crushing down the bushes, and making the very earth tremble under his powerful tread, and I went up, up, up, faster than I ever climbed a tree before or ever shall again, with every stitch of clothes upon me completely saturated with the perspiration wrung from me in an agony of fear—not so much the natural fear of death itself, as the instinctive fear of such a death.

"I think the animal must have turned from a direct course before espying me; for though close upon me, as I supposed, when I began to climb, I succeeded in reaching the first limb, at least some thirty feet from the earth, when he made his appearance at the foot of the tree, snorting and bellowing in the most terrific manner. Seeing me beyond his reach, he lashed himself into a perfect fury, his comparatively small, pig like eyes shooting gleams of fire as he cast them upwards in his disappointed rage. Then laying hold of the tree with his trunk, he tried his strength in shaking it; but as it was too heavy for him to endanger my position by that means, he soon relinquished it for another. Quietly stepping back a few paces, he measured his ground; and then with a sudden bound forward, he struck the tree a tremendous blow with his head and tusks. I was watching him closely, but only barely comprehended his design in time to throw my arms and legs around a limb, and brace myself for the shock. Nor was I at all too well prepared; for the concussion bruised me considerable, and it seemed to me as if a few pounds more force must have sent me clean from off my perch.

"But my enemy was not done yet. Stepping back and looking up at me with an expression that seemed to inquire what I thought of it, at the same time that he would assure me of its being only the beginning of his battering operations, he returned to the charge with increased vigor. But this time I was better prepared for him, and come not so near being unseated as on the first trial. Nothing discouraged, he retreated still further, and then came down like an avalanche. It was terrible. I had twined and braced myself in every possible manner; but when he struck, it seemed as if the concussion, after first bruising me, and almost knocking the breath from my body, relaxed every nerve. Doubtless, I should have fallen to the earth below, only that I was pretty securely balanced in the crotch of the tree, and, having resisted the main shock, had now no difficulty in retaining an upright position.

"On again looking down at the elephant, I was surprised to see him with his head fast against the tree, lashing his tail, pawing the earth, and uttering a sort of moaning, bellowing sound, altogether not unlike a vicious bull when about to make an attack. I did not at first comprehend what had occurred, but supposed his actions to result from the anger of disappointment in not being able to bring me to the ground. But I soon had cause for rejoicing rather than fear. His last charge had been made with so much force, as to imbed his long ivory tusks in the tree, and he was now a prisoner to his own brute strength. In vain he pulled and wrenched, moaned, bellowed, and lashed himself into a perfect fury. There he was, a fast prisoner—caught, as one might say, in his own trap—and if ever a poor mortal was justified in rejoicing over the misfortunes of a living creature, I think that individual was myself.

"But I was still a prisoner also. How was I to get down? and how make my escape when down? True, the elephant might not be able to liberate himself in time to do me any injury; but I already knew enough of the terrible jungle to feel little inclination to sett off through it alone. There were many intricate paths branching off from the main one, over which I had been borne, and the mistake of taking any one of these would almost certainly be fatal—resulting in death from starvation through being lost, or death from some one of the thousand other surrounding perils. What should I do? It was reasonable to hope that some of my attendants would, sooner or latter, return to learn the fate of their master; and before venturing on anything rash, I resolved to wait a proper time for them.

"Drearily passed the next three hours that I remained upon my giddy perch, above the imprisoned beast, looking off upon an undulating sea of matted foliage, with the hot sun of the tropical climate pouring down upon me its scorching rays, and almost stifling me with its feverish heat. How eagerly I turned my eyes in every direction, in the hope of getting a glimpse of one my attendants, to whom I could make known my situation. No human being was in sight, and my wildest shouts brought no reply. Should I remain where I was, or descend? We were, as I knew, almost a half a day's journey from any settlement, and it would therefore be impossible for me to reach a habitation before nightfall, even should I be fortunate enough to follow the nearest path, while a single mistake would leave me to perish in that awful solitude. I decided, therefore, to remain where I was, either till the sun of another day, or till I should see at least one human being capable of acting as a guide.

"The sun was rapidly nearing the western horizon, and I was despairing of any succor that day, when my attention was attracted to a commotion in the jungle, some quarter of a mile distant. Birds of various kinds flew up screaming, and either hovered over the spot in anger or darted quickly away in fear, and I could catch glimpses of the deer, the elk, and the buffalo, bounding off in every direction. What could be the cause of this disturbance? Was it some one or more of my attendants turning to ascertain my fate? Man, I knew, was almost universally feared by the wild, feathered tribe of the wilderness and the animals of the brute creation, and in man was now my hope. Wildly did my heart beat, and eagerly did I strain my eyes to catch a view of my deliverer.

"The line of commotion advanced slowly, but still I could not be certain of the cause.—Nearer and nearer it gradually came, till at last I felt a cold thril of terror pass through my frame, as I suddenly caught a glimpse of the sleek, spotted hide of a royal tiger, slowly and softly making his way through the jungle directly towards the tree upon which I was perched. I looked down at the elephant, and perceived that by some peculiar faculty or instinct he was already aware of his danger.—He was standing perfectly still, no longer making an effort to release himself, but I could see the skin of his broad back quiver, as if every nerve of his body were effected.

"The tiger gradually drew nearer, and at last stopped within a few paces, as if to calculate his chances. Then, with bristling hair, he stole softly round his intended victim in a broad circle, his sharp teeth visible and his terrible eyes glaring with fierce anger and desire.—Then crouching for the spring, he gave one fearful roar and bound, and fairly landed upon the back of his helpless victim, who uttered one agonized cry—a sort of shriek and groan combined—that made me pity him, enemy though he was.

"But his sufferings were of short duration; as he could make no resistance, the tiger had matters all his own way! and almost in the time it takes me to tell you the fact, he had torn open the throat of the giant beast, and was drinking his fill of the warm gushing blood.—This sight sickened me, and I clung to the tree with closed eyes and a dizzy brain.

"When I looked again, the terror of jungle was making his retreat, licking his chops with glutted satisfaction. I looked down at the elephant, and beheld a gory carcass, still held to the tree by his tusks. He was dead, and in his death was perhaps my own salvation, though I was still afraid to descend, lest I should be assailed by some carnivorous beast, attracted thither by the smell of blood.

"I expected nothing but that I should be compelled to remain there through the night; but I bethought me to try the virtue of my voice again, and shouted for help. To my surprised and almost frantic joy, an answer was returned. I repeated my call for help, and one of my attendants made his appearance. I explained what had occurred, and by a signal of his own, he soon brought three of the other to his side. I then descended, but found myself very faint, and was by two of them assisted to my palanquin where I swooned away.

"It is enough to add that I passed thro' the jungle in safety; though if any gentleman thinks I flattered myself on being a hero before I left it, I beg to undeceive him. I have since experienced some remarkable adventures, but none that have left upon my mind so vivid an impression of the terrible as the one I have just related."

AN ELEPHANT EGG.

At the last fair at Tarascon there were of course assembled a troupe of gymnasts, juglers accrobats, and a multitude of menageries, in one of which was an Asiatic Elephant remarkable for the largeness of his ears. His owner called him Kiouki 11.

Among the accrobatic troupe was a maker of red balloons, recently so popular in England and America. He travelled with the show, and seduced a couple of sous from the pockets of many a patron of it by selling him a balloon.

A countryman stopped one day before the menagerie tent, and enticed by a painted representation of the elephant, paid his money to see him. Astonished at his size, he asked the balloon man as he went out.

"Does that beast bring forth young, or lay eggs?

Without a moment's hesitation, the mountebank replied.

"He lays eggs."

"I thought so."

"And if you wish one, to afford you the happiness of possessing, under your own roof, an individual of his species, for a frame I will guarantee that you shall carry home what no one else in the country possesses."

The greenhorn did not hesitate to offer his money, and the acrobat presented a red balloon.

"Behold the egg I had the honor to promise you. It is one franc only—and only for you, because the Jarein des Planets at Paris buys all my elephant's eggs at six francs apiece, for the Algerine expeditions, where they use all the elephants they can find for the war against Indiana. I chose the lightest egg I could find for you, that you might not wait too long for it to hatch. Its mother having already sat upon it many days, it will suffice you to wrap it up in wool and lay it in a dry place, to obtain without expense and without effort, the magnificent Asiatic product which it contains!"

"Astonishing! but how in regard to suckling him?"

"Easy enough. No consequence what quadruped nourishes him. Lacking a cow, a sow, or even a goat, you can bring him up yourself on turtle soup."

The countryman departed, charmed with his prize, and to keep it safely as possible, wrapped it in a blue cotton handkerchief which he had bought at the fair for his wife. But in spite of all the care of which the egg that bore Kiouki 11 was the object, it was written in the Book of Destiny that its proprietor should not see it hatched under his roof.

Some little distance from the village where our countryman resided runs a stream. He approached it for the purpose of imbibing the clear water. For the purpose of making a cup with his hands, he deposited the precious burden on the ground. He drank freely of the water then rising, turned to his elephant's egg. He looks to the right and to the left, but no egg! He looks above him sees the egg rising higher—higher—and carrying with it his wife's handkerchief.

He believed that the elephant was about to be hatched, and it was not long after the egg was out of sight that he returned home crest fallen. His wife asked him where the handkerchief was he had promised to bring her. Then he narrated the entire adventure. The good woman opened her eyes and ears and seeing her husbands grief not only at the loss of the elephant; but of the handkerchief, exclaimed:

"Content yourself husband; I'll be content with my black handkerchief, and I'm glad to know the poor baby hasn't gone off with swaddling clothes!"

A LAUGHABLE STORY.

The Mobile Register is responsible for the following mirth provoking incident:

For twenty-three years old Jake Willard has cultivated the soil of Baldwin county, and drawn therefrom a support for self and wife.—He is childless. Not long ago, Jake left the house in search of a missing cow. His route led him through an old worn out patch of clay land, of about six acres in extent, in the centre of which was a well, 25 or 30 feet deep, that at some time probably had furnished the inmates of a dilapidated house near by with water. In passing by this spot, an ill-wind lifted Jake's "tile" from his head, and maliciously wafted it to the edge of the well, and in it tumbled.

Now Jake had always practiced the virtue of economy and he immediately sat about recovering the lost hat. He ran to the well, and finding it was dry at the bottom, he uncoiled the rope which he had brought for the purpose of capturing the truant cow, and after several attempts to catch the hat with a noose, he concluded to save time by going down into the well himself. To accomplish this, he made fast one end of the rope to a stump hard by and was quickly on his way down the well.

It is a fact, of which Jake was no less obvious than the reader hereof, that Ned Wells was in the dilapidated building aforesaid, and that an old blind horse, with a bell on his neck, who had been turned out to die, was lazily grazing within a short distance of the well.

The devil himself or some other wicked spirit put it into Ned's cranium to have a little fun, so he quietly slipped up to the old horse and unbuckled the bell strap, approached with slow measured, "ting-a-ling-ting" the edge of the well.

"G——d dang that old blind hoss!" said Jake, "he's a comin this way sure, and aint got no more sense than to fall in here. Whoa, Ball."

But the continued approach of the "ting-a-ling" said just as words that "Ball" wouldn't whoa. Besides, Jake was at the bottom resting, before trying to "shin" it up the rope.

"Great Jerusalem!" said he, "the old cuss will be a top of me before I can say Jack Robison. Whoa! G———d dang you—whoa!"

Just then Ned drew up to the edge of the well, and with his toot he kicked a little dirt into it.

"Oh, Lord!" exclaimed Jake, falling upon his knees at the bottom. "I'm gone now, who. Now I lay me down to sleep—w-h-o-a Ball—I pray the Lord my soul to—w-h-o-a now.—Oh! Lord, have mercy on my poor soul.—Whoa, Ball.

Ned could hold no longer, and fearful Jake might suffer from his fright, he revealed himself.

Probably Ned didn't make tracks with his hells from that well. Maybe Jake wasn't up to the top of it in short order, and you might think he didn't try every night for two weeks to get a shot with his rifle at Ned. Maybe not. I don't know. But I do know, if Jake finds out who sent you this, it will be the last squib you'll get.

SOLILOQUY OF A LOAFEE.

Let's see, where am I? Yes, I mind now. Was coming up street, met a wheelbarrow—wheelbarrow was drunk, comin t'other way; the wheelbarrow fell over me, or I over the wheelbarrow, and one of us fell into the cellar—don't know which now—guess it must have been me. I'm a nice man—yes, I am tight! tore! drunk! Well, I can't help it—tain't my fault—wonder whose fault 'tis? Is it Jones fault? No Is it my wife's fault? No. It's whiskey's fault. Who is whiskey? Has he a large family? All poor, I reckon. I think I won't own him any more. I'll cut his acquaintance—I've had the notion for about ten years, and I always hate to do it for fear of hurting his feelings. I'll do it now—I think liquor is injurin' me, its spoilin' my temper.

Sometimes I get mad when I'm drunk, and abuse Bets and the brats—it used to be Lizzie and the children—that's some time ago. I'd come home of evenings, she used to put her arms around my neck and kiss me, and call me dear William. When I come home now, she takes her pipe out of her mouth and hair out of her eyes, and says somethin' like, "Bill, you drunken brute, shut the door after you; we're calc enough havin' no fire, 'thout lettin' the snow blow in that way." Yes, she's Bets, and I'm Bill, now, I ain't a good Bill nuther; won't pass a tavern without goin' in and gittin' drunk. Don't know what bank I'm on. Last Saturday night I was on the river bank—drunk.

I stay out pretty late; no, sometimes I'm out all night: fact is, I'm pretty much out all over—out of elbows and knees, and always out-rageously dirty—so Bets says; but then she's no judge, for she's never clean herself. I wonder why she doesn't wear good clothes—may be she hasn't got 'em; whose fault's that? tain't mine, must be whiskey's.

Sometimes I'm in, however—I'm in-toxicated now, in somebody's coal cellar. There's one principle I've got, I won't get in debt; I never could do it. There, one of my coat tails is gone—got tore off, I expect, when I fell in here; I'll have to get a new suit soon.

A fellow told me that I'd make a good sign for a paper mill, t'other day. If he wasn't so big I'd kick him. I've had this shirt on for nine days, and I'm afraid it won't come off without tearing. People ought to respect me more than they do for I'm in holy orders.

I ain't a dandy, though my clothes are pretty near the Grecian style. I guess I tore this window shutter in my pants 'tother night when I sat down in the wax in Ben Rogg's shop, and I'll have to get them mended or my—constitution might suffer; I ain't very stout as it is. As the boys say. I'm fat as a match, and healthy as the small-pox.

My best hat has been standing guard for a window pane that went out the other morning, at the invitation of a brick. It's gettin' cold down here: wonder if I ain't able to climb. If I had a drink, I could think better. Let's see, I ain't got three cents, if I was in a tavern I would sponge one. Whenever a person treats and says, "come fellows," I always think my name is "fellers," and I've got too good manner to refuse. Well, I must leave this, or they'll arrest me for an attempt at burglarly. I ain't come to that yet. Anyhow, It was the wheelbarrow that did the harm, not me ☞"Didn't you tell me you could hold the plow?" said a farmer to a green Irishman whom he had taken on trial.

"Arrah! be aisy now," said Pat, "how the deuce can I hold it, and two horses drawing it away from me! but give it to me in the barn, and be jabers, I'll hold it with anybody."

☞A man who had been married twice to ladies both named Catherine, advised his friend against taking dupli-Kates.

THE HAPPY LAND.—Some 'feller,' (we think it was an ex-devil of a country newspaper) with a hankering after an elysium, thus sighs his soul away.

"Oh, is there not a happy land—
A land beyond the seas—
Where pot pie smokes in boundless lakes,
And dumplings grow on trees?
Where gingerbread is found in stacks,
And smearcase by the ton,
And when you do a job of work
You get the "ready John."
Where Nature's lessons may be read,
In every babbling brook?
Where bumble bees don't sting a chap,
And muley cows don't hook?"

TOM CORWIN REBUKED.—The Springfield, Ill., Register, of Oct. 17, says:—"On Monday last, Mr. Tom Corwin addressed a Republican meeting at Jacksonville. When he was about closing, a note was handed to him. He opened it, and glancing at the first lines, saw it was an invitation. By way of affording him a pretext for not speaking any oftner than he had bargained for, he told the crowd that he had just received an invitation, which he would read. Mr. Corwin then read the note. It was couched in the most polite terms, and extended an earnest and pressing invitation to the Hon. Mr. Corwin to visit—only one mile distant—the "Tomb of Hardin, who had been welcomed in Mexico, by bloody hands to a hospitable grave!" Corwin was thunderstruck. He put the note down, took it up, twisted it, hung his head, and said nothing. The multitude, about equally divided between Democrats and Republicans, looked on the pittiable sight in silence. The rebuke was a crashing one. It was a complete discomfiture. Corwin at last essayed a justification of his course on the Mexican war, failed, provoked the jeering taunts of the crowd, left the stand, and quitted Jacksonville."

DOESTICKS ON BILLIARDS.—The following is Doesticks' idea of the game of billiards: "I need hardly tell you that the game of billiards consists in punching ivory balls about on a big table covered with green cloth that looks like half an acre of meadow land with an India rubber fence around it; that the balls are punched with long wooden ramrods with wax on the end to save the wood, and leather on the end to save the wax, and chalk put on to keep the leather from wearing out. You take your ramrod and rub some chalk on the little end; then you lean over the table; then you squint then you lift up your leg; then you fiddle a little on your left hand with your ramrod; then you punch your ball; if your ball runs against the other man's ball you've done a big thing, and you poke up a lot of buttens that are strung on a wire. This is all there is of the game of billiards—I can, and maybe you could.

A BUNCOMBE FENCE.—Lawyer—"Now Mr. A.——, was the fence alluded to a strong fence?"

Uncle Will—"Yes Sir."

Lawyer—"Well, what sort of a fence was it?"

Uncle Will (holding in)—"It was a Buncombe fence, Sir."

Lawyer, (thinking he had cornered the old gent,)—"Now Squire, will you oblige the Court by giving your definition of a Buncombe fence?"

Uncle Will—"A Buncombe fence, Sir, is a fence that is bull strong, horse high and pig tight."

Uncle Will was dismissed from the stand and retired with flying colors.

☞"Good evening, Miss Brown, very pleasant."

"Very."

"Looks very much like a storm."

"Very."

"Are you well this evening?"

"Very."

"Your father's sick."

WOOD WANTED!

Several cords of good hickory or oak wood wanted at this office, in payment of subscription to the "Gazette."

A PROPHECY.

The candidate of the sectional and factional Republican party, has been elected to the Presidency, and the heart of every true patriot beats quick with apprehension for the future of the Republic. How will this man chosen by a minority of the votes of the Union, chosen by the enthusiasts and fanatics of the North, preside over the affairs of the whole nation, over the interests of the South which utterly repudiates his doctrines and his proposed policy, and which looks upon him as a deadly and implacable enemy to its institutions? Such is the question that naturally suggests itself to every reflecting mind, and it was because this question was impossible of solution, to those who compose the conservative class of our citizens, that Abraham Lincoln with their opposition to his claims as a candidate for the Presidency. It is a question that will depend for its answer upon circumstances and events of which we can have no foreknowledge, but which will not, we fear be altogether within the control of the newly elected President. The waves of the agitation upon which he has sailed into power, are lashed to fury by the storms of Southern excitement.—The hatred against the South engendered by his partizans in the breasts of the Northern people, has enkindled a correspondent enmity in the fiery and impetuous Southrons, which threatens to break out in attempt at secession and which may culminate in a bloody and exterminating civil war. In short, Mr. Lincoln, in his diatribes against Negro slavery as it exists in the Southern States, sown the wind and his adminstration, perforce, must reap the whirlwind. With no guaranty in his past life for the safety of his policy as the Executive of the Government, is it strange that we feel at a loss to conjecture what means he will make use of to extricate the country from its impending peril? With no beacon-star gleaming from his public record to warn the country of danger, or to guide the Ship of state into a harbor of safety, is it to be wondered at that the people are anxiously inquiring what will Mr. Lincoln do to preserve the confederacy. True, we are referred to his public speeches and to the Chicago Platform, as the foreshadowing of his policy. Heaven forbid that he should follow out the teachings of the latter, or that he should attempt to enforce the doctrines of the former! Woe to our Union, woe to American liberty, and glory, if such such should be his policy!—But we predict that he will not dare to fulfil the catalogue of enormities prescribed by his platform. We predict that he will give the lie to every speech he has made on the slavery question; that he will enforce the Fugitive Slave Law, sign bills for the admission of new slave states, and play conservative generally. If he does this we predict further that the mass of his party will desert him, that he will be effectually Tylerized, and that he will be compelled to look to the Democratic party for countenance and support.

A GLANCE RETROSPECTIVE.

The October election fully demonstrated the fact that when the full vote of Bedford county is polled, there is a handsome and decided majority for the Democrats. The Opposition had polled almost their entire vote at that election, and could not have raised fifty more in the county if they had taken a drag-net and fished out every nook and corner from the Maryland to the Blair county line. On the other the Democrats had at least 120 if not 150 votes at home. In Southampton alone there were about seventy five Democrats that did not get to the polls, some on account of the great distance they had to go, but most of them, because of sickness in their families, the Typhoid fever prevailing in that region to an alarming extent. That election further demonstrated that disorganizers cannot always gratify their enmity toward certain candidates, by raising their treacherous hands to strike them down. When there is a full Democratic turnout, the Democracy of Bedford county, may well despise all such treason as that exhibited in the last campaign. The men who attempt it, only put a mark upon themselves of which they will be ashamed in the future and of which they fain one day would be clear. The lesson taught, to the vindictive and the wavering, by the result of the October election is, Stick to the Democratic Nominees, and you will not only be on the winning side, but free from all suspicion or blame on the part of your fellow Democrats.

☞The Editor being away from home, his editorials are this week confined to general topics, and he is unable to discuss local matters.—On his return, he will carve up things hereabouts to suit the taste of the most fastidious of his readers.

THANKS.

The Democracy of Bedford county, have just emerged from a political battle in which the enemy had every advantage except that of principle. Divided between two leaders the Democratic column, was rent in twain, whilst the Opposition was firmly united. Through all this unequal war, the old "Gazette" pursued a straightforward course, turning neither to the left, and bending neither to fear nor favor. For this we are fully rewarded, not only by the consciousness that we did our duty, but by the approbation of our course by the Democracy of the county in extending to us a most flattering increase of patronage. Our list of regular subscribers is now larger than it has been since our connection with the establishment, and is daily on the increase. We return our warmest thanks to the Democracy of the confidence and approval, and hope to be able to deserve their kindness in the future.

TWELVE YEARS.

The Opposition have been "out in the cold" a long weary time. It is twelve years since they elected a candidate for President. In 1848, Gen Taylor was elected on the "Rough and Ready" cry just as Lincoln has been successful on that of the "Railsplitter." Democrats can afford to let the Opposition have the President this time, but if Lincoln does not save us the trouble of electing another President, we will unite upon one candidate in 1864, and keep them out twelve years longer.

LEHMAN DECLARED ELECTED!

Proclamation of the Governor.

We give below the proclamation of Gov. Packer declaring W. E. Lehman, elected to Congress in the First District, instead of John M. Butler, to whom through fraud and forgery, the certificate of election had been given by the Board of Return Judges. Gov. Packer has done his duty fearlessly and manfully in this matter, and the right through him is vindicated.

Proclamation.

And Whereas, Certain returns have been received at the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth of the votes cast in the First Congressional District for Member of Congress, certifying that at the election aforesaid John M. Butler received eight thousand five hundred and eighty-one votes, William E. Lehman received eight thousand three hundred and eighty three votes, and Edward King received two thousand and fifty-seven votes:

And Whereas, It has been judicially ascertained that said returns include a false, forged and fabricated return of the votes cast in the Fourth Ward part of the First Congressional District:

And Whereas, The return judge from the said Fourth ward has been duly convicted in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace in and for the city and county of Philadelphia for the criminal substitution of said false, forged and fabricated return, in lieu of the true and correct one:

And Whereas, By the true returns, certified from the Prothonotary's office of the Court of Common Pleas in and for the city and county of Philadelphia, it appears that at the election aforesaid William E. Lehman received eight thousand five hundred and fifty nine votes, John M. Butler received eight thousand four hundred and twenty-seven votes, and Edward King received two thousand and forty-four votes:

And Whereas, It thus appears from the true and genuine returns, that William E. Lehman was duly chosen at the election aforesaid a member of the House of Representatives of the United States for the First Congressional District, composed of Southwark, Moyamensing, Passayunk, in the county of Philadelphia, and Cedar, Lombard, Spruce and New Market wards, in the city of Philadelphia:

Now Therefore, I have issued this Proclamation, hereby publishing and declaring that William E. Lehman, Edward Joy Morris, John P. Verree, William D. Kelly, Morris Davis, John Hickman, Thomas B. Cooper, Sydenham E. Ancona, Thaddeus Stevens, John W. Killinger, James H. Campbell, George W. Scranton, Philip Johnson, Galusha A. Grow, James T. Hale, Joseph Bailey, Edward McPherson, Samuel S. Blair, John Covode, Jesse Lazear, James K. Moorhead, Robert M'Knight, John W. Wallace, John Patton and Elijah Babbitt, have been returned as duly elected in the several districts before mentioned as Representatives in the Congress of the United States for the term of two years, to commence from and after the fourth day of March next.

Given under my Hand and the Great Seal of the State at Harrisburg, this eight day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty, and of the Commonwealth the eighty-fifth.

WM. F. PACKER.

By the Governor,
Wm. M. Hiester,
Secretary of the Commonwealth

The Result in Pennsylvania.

The majority for Lincoln in this State will probably foot up some 80,000—although no one cares about searching for particulars. There was a great falling off in the aggregate vote for President, compared with the State election when nearly 500,000 votes were polled. We would not be surprised if the total vote on the 6th inst. did not exceed 450,000. This falling off was principally upon the Democratic side. The large majority against Foster at the State election was generally regarded as settling the contest as far as Pennsylvania was concerned, and hence the apathy and indifference among Democrats. The mass of the Democratic vote of the State was cast for the Reading electoral ticket; but the Straight-out Douglas ticket was supported to a considerable extent by the Douglas men. As there was no attempt at Democratic organization after the State election, and the dissensions in the party made a united rally impossible, it is not surprising that Lincoln carried the State by a huge majority.

From the St. Louis Democrat of Nov. 2d.

A Young Lady Murdered by a Slave Woman—The Murderess Caught and Hung!

Reliable intelligence from Fulton, Calloway county, Mo., apprises us that a shocking tragedy occurred within eight miles of that place on Saturday last. In the house of a Mr. Barnes was a female slave of irascible and dangerous temper, who had frequently been enraged at Mr. Barnes' daughter, Susanna J., a young lady of some eighteen years of age. Saturday morning the slave Teney was sent to work in a cornfield, and the family set off to attend a meeting of some kind, leaving Miss Barnes alone at home. On returning from the meeting they were horrified to find her shockingly beat to death, and the floor and walls of the dwelling bespattered with blood. The dinner table had been set evidently by Miss Barnes, and her knitting work lay disarranged on the kitchen floor. The kitchen showed blood and signs of a struggle. Blood marks were visible along the walls of the east room on the floor and walls of which was much more blood, and the room exhibited plain traces of a violent strife. Next the blood was traced to the west room, where the murder had been committed, and where the corpse was found lying in gore.

The slave woman called, and found to have changed her dress since morning. On searching, the dress was found in the field, hidden and bloody. A shovel was found bloody and battered. When confronted with her bloody dress, the woman confessed that she had killed Miss Barnes. She was placed in custody of Deputy Constable Henry Willing, who rode off in haste for the jail, at Fulton.

When within three miles of Fulton, he was overtaken by a party on horses, who took the prisoner from him, led her to a tree not far off, and there hanged her till she was dead.

The above information was received by a German contemporary, from the office of the German paper published weekly at Fulton.

The Astor House on Fire—Loss $20,000.

New York, Nov. 8.—A fire broke out in the Astor House this morning, and has seriously damaged the first and second stories on Vesey street side. The furniture is greatly injured by smoke and water. The fire has been got under, and the damage will not exceed $50.000.

The Southern Secession Movement.

Augusta, Nov. 8.

A member of the South Carolina Legislature now here, says that there is but little doubt that a Southern Convention will be called and the Union dissolved.

☞The apple crop throughout New England is an immense one, and has rarely if ever, been excelled. The fruit, generally is fair, of good quality, and so cheap in many localities, that it will not pay a profit even to steal the best varieties. The Worcester Transcript says the price of excellent Baldwins in that city is seventy-five cents per barrel. Some farmers in Worcester county have 500 barrels. In Middlesex county there are many persons whose orchards yield more than a thousand barrels of excellent apples. There is a market for them at the South. At Mobile, a decent apple, it is reported, sells for half a dime.

The Fashionable Amusement at Naples.—The Times' correspondent says: "There is a lot of young men of fortune at Naples at the present moment, mostly Englishmen and Americans, who amuse themselves by going out by rail every morning to Garibaldi's quarters before Capua, and with valuable guns of long range, which they have purchased for the purpose, pick off the men at the outposts of the royal army all day, and return to the city in the evening to boast of the number of game they have "bagged' during the day."

Cold Weather in France.—Extraordinary cold weather has been experienced in the South of France. A Paris letter, dated Oct. 18, says: "At Marseilles for some days past the weather has been very severe. At Lyons the thermometer has descended to zero, and the mountains in the neighborhood of Villefranche and Beaujeau are covered with snow.

☞There is a young man named Mark Ralfe, at Bent's Fort, who was recently stabbed in three places and shot three times, scalped and left for dead by the Kiowa Indians, but who afterwards regained his consciousness, and walked thirty-five miles to a place of safety and succor. He has now nearly recovered, but has only two locks of hair left upon his head, all the rest was taken with the scalp.

Theatrical.—Mr. Joseph Proctor, one of our American tragedians, has completed a most successful engagement in Bolton, England and proceeds to Preston previous to his return to London, where he is engaged to play at one of the theatres.

☞Travellers tells us that they are astonished by the stacks of untouched wheat which still line the sides of the railways throughout Northern and Southern Illinois, and we cannot doubt it when we remember that the wages of laborers during the harvest ranged from one and a half, to two and a half dollars per diem. At the close of navigation there will still be from twelve to fifteen millions of bushels surplus to come forward early in the spring.

☞Next week will be court week, and will afford a splendid opportunity to all coming to town to pay the Printer. Give us a call and we'll write receipts till our fingers ache, only so that the "spondulicks" are forthcoming.

GENERAL NEWS ITEMS.

☞Reliable statistics show that 200,000 out of 900,000 in New York city go to church on Sunday.

Is the Prince Plucky?—Well, he faced Niagara like a man, but "quailed on the prairies.—"Day Book."

"Murder will Out."—A man, named Fid, has been arrested at Altica, Indiana, charged with the Murder of Col. Davenport, at Davenport, Iowa, about fourteen or fifteen years ago.

☞P. T. Barnum is now in Philadelphia with the view of selecting a site for a Museum somewhat similar to his famous Museum in New York.

☞A sum equal to $50,000 is yearly paid out of the royal mint of England, in exchange for worn out silver.

☞The Milwaukee Sentinel says that they are now about 1,000 orphans in that city, rendered so by the Lady Elgin calamity.

☞The value of the real estate of the city of Philadelphia is assessed at one hundred and fifty-seven millions of dollars. The increase since 1859, is about three and three-quarter millions.

☞Fifty mechanics who joined in the recent strike at Newton Upper Falls, Mass., have left that place for New York and the South, failing to come to an understanding with their former employers.

"Mrs. Partington" in the Legislature.—B. P. Shillaber, who resides on the "rhubarbs" of Boston, and so well known all the world over as the quaint Mrs. Partington, has been elected to the Massachusetts Legislature on the Democratic ticket.

☞During the Prince's visit to Boston, he saw an original letter of Washington. This interested him very much, and he expressed a wish to possess such a relic of so great a man. Mr. Everett, next day, gratified his wish by sending him an original letter.

☞A brutal mother having married a boy husband at Albany, and opened a disreputable saloon, sent her two younger children to an institution in New York, and then turned the eldest boy, 12 years old into the street, where the police found him.

☞Handkerchiefs were first manufactured at Paisley, in Scotland, in 1743. Hats were invented for men in Paris, in 1403. Knitting stockings was invented in Spain in 1550. Linen was first made in England in 1253.

☞A fellow was doubting whether or not he should volunteer to fight. One of the flags waving before his eyes, bearing the inscription "Victory or Death," somewhat troubled and discouraged him. "Victory is a very good thing," said he; "but why put it Victory or Death? Just put it Victory or Crippled, and I'll go that!"

Buffalo Robes.—The St. Louis (Mo.) Democrat says, that a total of 80,000 buffalo robes has been received in that city during the present year. These robes are all tanned in the present year. These robes are all tanned by the Indian squaws, as the men never stoop to such work.

Hoops and Whiskey.—There was something of a "set back" administered to the young man on an excursion boat, who, in making his way through the crowd, ventured to remark that "hoops took up too much room." "Not so much as whiskey," replied a pert young miss in the assemblage.

From Richmond to Hampton in a Balloon. Professor Wells left Richmond in his balloon, Mount Vernon, on Saturday evening last, at a quarter before four o'clock, and at six o'clock landed on Mr. Henry Smith's farm, near Hampton, Va., thus making the distance of ninety miles in two hours and a quarter.

Heavy Wagers.—It is estimated that at least $100,000 changed hands in Boston on the defeat of Mr. Burlingame, Republican. The betting was largely on his election, five to one being risked in numerous instances. The "fusion" men won both a great victory and a large "pile" of money.

A journeyman printer, in an Erie printing office, as we are reliably informed, put on a "sub" last week, went to the Meadville oil district, bought an oil claim on time, struck oil, and has been offered $20,000 for his chance.—He had better take it. It is "a fat take."—The lucky printer's name is George Simonton.

☞The reports from Upper California of the murder of a whole emigrant train of nearly fifty persons, including women and children, and also the statements from other parts of the interior of Indian murders and depredations, show the necessity of firmer policy than has been allowed to prevail.

☞The wife of a man named Collins died recently in New Orleans, and, as he was poor his neighbors contributed for a funeral. He took the money and went on a spree, and it was a week before they discovered that the body was not buried.

White Raccoons.—Three white raccoons, the fur of which is as soft and beautiful as the finest wool, were recently shot on the borders of the Roanoke River, in Virginia. They were the first ever seen in that State.

☞Among the curiosities to be seen at the Mechanic's Fair in Richmond is a doll which has played with by five generations—deposited by Miss Georgia Powell; a diamond ring 300 years old—deposited by Mrs. A. P. Allen: a book 224 years old—deposited by Mrs. Benj. Davis; and last, but not least the cradle in which Henry Clay was rocked.

A Profitable Pursuit.—A Texas paper states that a gentleman who, two years ago, purchased a flock of sheep for $900, and took them to that State, has, since then, sold $500 worth of wool from them, and now his flock is worth $3,000 making a profit of $2,600 on his investment in two years.

An old cannon, eleven feet eight inches in length, and weighing 5,200 pounds, has recently been brought to New London, from the old fort in Honolulu, Sandwhich Islands. It is nearly 200 years old, of elaborate workmanship, with numerous devices, and is a great curiosity. It was dismounted and spiked by the French, when they attempted to subjugate the Hawaian kingdom, and has lain useless ever since.

Enormous Yield of Wheat.—David Old, of Geneva, Wis., recently threshed 500 bushels of wheat, the product of only eight acres, thus obtaining the enormous average of 62½ bushels to the acre.

ORIENTAL WANDERINGS.

ARAB GRATITUDE—THE LIGHT OF THE HAREM.

During a successful medical career of more than twenty years, in the course of which he has visited every quarter of the globe, it may well be supposed that Professor Holloway has been the recipient of many distinguished marks of honor and confidence. As the originator of a system of treatment which has swept over the world with a force and rapidity that, in this enlightened age, are the prerogatives of Truth, his fame everywhere preceded him. Even in traversing Arabia, some years ago, he found that his name and discoveries were well known to the Sheiks of the various tribes, and deputations of Arabs met him at various points of his journey, soliciting the great "Hakim," (their name for physician) to visit their tents and administer to the sick. At every encampment he was received with most profound respect, which deepened into absolute reverence as the effect of his wonderful remedies was witnessed by these children of the wilderness. Some of his adventures among them were quite of a romantic cast. One of their chiefs, a majestic old Bedouin, whose favorite daughter had been for years affected with a scorbutic disease, was so carried away with rapture at her recovery under Professor Holloway's hands, that, in a burst of gratitude, he offered him half his flocks and herds, if he would remain with the tribe and be its guest for life.

While visiting Constantinople, on his return home, he had an audience of the Sultan, and was requested to prescribe for a favorite odalisque in the imperial harem, who had been pronounced incurable by the Turkish doctors.—She was a Circassian slave of surpassing beauty and realized in her form and face the description of "Young Nourmahel" as described in Lalla Rookh. Her disease was dyspepsia, aggravated, no doubt, by the ennui, created by a sequestered and monotonous life. Within a month, however, Professor Holloway's great medicines, with the aid of daily exercise in the gardens of the Seraglio, accomplished a complete cure, and he subsequently received an autograph letter from the Sultan, thanking him in the warmest terms, for restoring to health the "Light of his Harem." No sooner was the news of this cure noised through Constantinople, than the lodgings of the "Great Frank Physician" were literally besieged by dyspeptic Pashas and bilious Beys, and from the period of his departure to the present time, the demand upon his agents in Constantinople for the remedies that bear his name has continually increased.—Dr. Livingston's "Travels."

Holloway's Pills and Ointment.—Health and Beauty—how to secure them.—Female Irregularities.—Beauty is as indispensable to the happiness of woman as is health to her existence the loss of charms being regarded as a greater affliction than death itself. Holloway's Pills and Ointment have done more towards preserving it and relieving the various disorders incidental to the sex than all other advertised medicines united. Thousands of lovely females have had their constitutions ruined and beauty blighted by drastic aperients, pernicious stimulants and poisonous lotions. The mild, soothing, and restorative influence of Holloway's great internal and external remedies in all complaints of woman are now generally admitted whether in the Spring time of womanhood or in the Autumn or turn of life.

Markets.

Philadelphia, Nov. 13.—Flour—There is no change; the demand for export is limited, owing to the high freights to England. Standard superfine is offered at $5 50 and 4 62 per barrel, the latter for better brands, and not finding buyers, except to supply the trade; and at these figures up to $6 and 6 75 per. barrel for extras and fancy brands, as to quality. The receipts are moderate, and show a falling off this week.

Rye Flour and Corn Meal are dull, the former at $4 25, and the latter at $3 50.

Wheat not much offering; the demand for shiping is not large; 4000 bushels sold at $1 25 and 1 30 for common to good Red; $1 30 and 1 35 for White, good; the first for common.

Rye, dull—Pennsylvania sells in small lots at 68c. Corn is unchanged, and sales of 4000 prime Yellow, mostly at 71c, afloat; New is dull, and ranges from 50 to 58c.

Oats are more plenty and dull; 3000 bushels Southern at 30 and 31c; 800 bushels Penn'a. at 34c.

Barley and Malt are quiet; prices the same.

In Groceries and Provisions nothing doing; very small sales this week.

Whiskey not much offering, and wanted at 22 and 22½c for Pennsylvania bbls; Ohio bbls 24 and 24½c. Drudge 22c; hhds 22c.

Baltimore, Nov. 10.—Flour steady. Wheat firm; red $1 30 and 1 35; white 1 45 and 1 65. Corn steady; yellow 68 and 70c; white 70 and 75c. Provisions steady; mess Pork $19 and 19 75; rump prime Pork $15. Leaf lard 12½ and 13c. Coffee steady; Rio 14 and 15c; no stock in first hands. Whiskey at 20½ and 20¾c.

At the same place, and by the same, on the 11th inst., Mr. Joseph Elonburger, Jr. of Somerset co., to Miss Mary, daughter of James McVicker, Esq., of Bedford co.

—DIED—

On Friday, the 22d inst., Mrs. Charlotte S. Watson, wife of Dr. W. H. Watson, of Bedford, in the 46th year of her age.

The deceased was for many years a member of the Presbyterian Church, and adorned her profession by a consistent christian life. Her piety was simple and unobtrusive, but deep-seated and earnest. She loved the sanctuary, and the ordinances of the Lord's House. Social, family and secret prayer, were highly prized as means of grace, and she honored the sacred word through which God sanctifies his people. Her favorite chapters in the gospels, and the Psalms which so truthfully portrayed her own experience, joyous and sad, will be, to her bereaved family, sacred mementoes of her trusting piety.

In social intercourse she was courteous and affable, and her conversation was characterized by great prudence, charity, and christian benevolence. Hence she was not only the light and joy of a happy home, but she stood high in the esteem and affections of all who knew her.

Her last moments were peaceful. She had a steadfast trust in Jesus, and confidingly committed her soul into his hands. As the morning sun was struggling through the clouds which gathered above her native hills, her sun of life went down, but only to rise in the unclouded splendor of an eternal day.

A large concourse of relatives and friends followed her remains to their last resting-place. The funeral services were held on the Sabbath morning after her decease, the morning of that day which commemorates the Savior's resurrection, and is a type of that rest which remaineth for the people of God. "I would not have you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning them which are asleep, that ye sorrow not, even as others which have no hope. For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them also which sleep in Jesus will God bring with him.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

And for the speedy cure of the subjoined varieties of Disease:

Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections, such as Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Blains, and all Skin Diseases.

OAKLAND, Ind., 6th June, 1859.

J. C. AYER & Co. Gents: I feel it my duty to acknowledge what your Sarsaparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scrofulous infection, I have suffered from it in various ways for years. Sometimes it burst out in Ulcers on my hands and arms; sometimes it turned inward and distressed me at the stomach. Two years ago it broke out on my head and covered my scalp and ears with one sore, which was painful and loathsome beyond description. I tried many medicines and several physicians, but without much relief from any thing. In fact, the disorder grew worse. At length I was rejoiced to read in the Gospel Messenger that you had prepared an alterative (Sarsaparilla), for I knew from your reputation that any thing you made must be good. I sent to Cincinnati and got it, and used it till it cured me. I took it, as you advise, in small doses of a teaspoonful over a month, and used almost three bottles. New and healthy skin soon began to form under the scab, which after a while fell off. My skin is now clear, and I know by my feelings that the disease has gone from my system. You can well believe that I feel what I am saying when I tell you, that I hold you to be one of the apostles of the age, and remain ever gratefully. Yours,

ALFRED B. TALLEY.

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Dropsy.

Dr. Robert M. Preble writes from Salem, N. Y., 12th Sept., 1859, that he has cured an inveterate case of Dropsy, which threatened to terminate fatally, by the persevering use of our Sarsaparilla, and also a dangerous attack of Malignant Erysipelas by large doses of the same; says he cures the common Eruptions by it constantly.

Bronchocele, Goitre or Swelled Neck.

Zebulon Sloan of Prospect, Texas, writes: "Three bottles of your Sarsaparilla cured me from a Goitre—a hideous swelling on the neck, which I had suffered from over two years."

Leucorrhœa or Whites, Ovarian Tumor, Uterine Ulceration, Female Diseases.

Dr. J. B. S. Channing, of New York City, writes; "I most cheerfully comply with the request of your agent in saying I have found your Sarsaparilla a most excellent alterative in the numerous complaints for which we employ such a remedy, but especially in Female Diseases of the Scrofulous diathesis. I have cured many inveterate cases of Leucorrhœa by it, and some where the complaint was caused by ulceration of the uterus. The ulceration itself was soon cured. Nothing within my knowledge equals it for these female derangements."

Edward S. Marrow, of Newbury, Ala., writes, "A dangerous ovarian tumor on one of the females in my family, which had defied all the remedies we could employ, has at length been completely cured by your Extract of Sarsaparilla. Our physician thought nothing but extirpation could afford relief, but he advised the trial of your Sarsaparilla as the last resort before cutting, and it proved effectual. After taking your remedy eight weeks no symptom of the disease remains."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

NEW ORLEANS, 25th August, 1859.

DR. J. C. AYER: Sir, I cheerfully comply with the request of your agent, and report to you some of the effects I have realized with your Sarsaparilla.

I have cured with it, in my practice, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found its effects truly wonderful in the cure of Venereal and Mercurial Disease. One of my patients had Syphilitic ulcers in his throat, which were consuming his palate and the top of his mouth. Your Sarsaparilla, steadily taken, cured him in five weeks. Another was attacked by secondary symptoms in his nose, and the ulceration had eaten away a considerable part of it, so that I believe the disorder would soon reach his brain and kill him. But it yielded to my administration of your Sarsaparilla: the ulcers healed, and he is well again, but of course without some disfiguration to his face. A woman who had been treated for the same disorder by mercury was suffering from this poison in her bones. They had become so sensitive to the weather that on a damp day she suffered excruciating pain in her joints and bones. She, too, was cured entirely by your Sarsaparilla in a few weeks. I know from its formula, which your agent gave me, that this Preparation from your laboratory must be a great remedy; consequently, these truly remarkable results with it have not surprised me.

Fraternally yours, G. V. LARIMER, M. D

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint.

INDEPENDENCE, Preston Co., Va., 6th July, 1859.

DR. J. C. AYER: Sir, I have been afflicted with a painful chronic Rheumatism for a long time, which baffled the skill of physicians, and stuck to me in spite of all the remedies I could find, until I tried your Sarsaparilla. One bottle cured me in two weeks, and restored my general health so much that I am far better than before I was attacked. I think it a wonderful medicine. J. FREAM.

Jules Y. Getchell, of St. Louis, writes: "I have been afflicted for years with an affection of the Liver, which destroyed my health. I tried every thing, and every thing failed to relieve me; and I have been a broken-down man for some years from no other cause than derangement of the Liver. My beloved pastor, the Rev. Mr. Espy, advised me to try your Sarsaparilla, because he said he knew you, as to make a new man of me; which, under God, it has: the best that can be said of you is not half good enough."

Schirrus, Cancer Tumors, Enlargement, Ulceration, Caries and Exfoliation of the Bones.

A great variety of cases have been reported to us where cures of these formidable complaints have resulted from the use of this remedy, but our space here will not admit them. Some of them may be found in our American Almanac, which the agents below named are pleased to furnish gratis to all who call for them.

Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Melancholy, Neuralgia

Many remarkable cures of these affections have been made by the alterative power of this medicine. It stimulates the vital functions into vigorous action, and thus overcomes disorders which would be supposed beyond its reach. Such a remedy has long been required by the necessities of the people, and we are confident that this will do for them all that medicine can do.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the Relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced Stages of the Disease

This is a remedy so universally known to surpass any other for the cure of throat and lung complaints, that it is useless here to publish the evidence of its virtues. Its unrivalled excellence for coughs and colds, and its truly wonderful cures of pulmonary disease, have made it known throughout the civilized nations of the earth. Few are the communities, or even families, among them who have not some personal experience of its effects—some living trophy in their midst of its victory over the subtle and dangerous disorders of the throat and lungs. As all know the dreadful fatality of these disorders, and as they know, too, the effects of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them that it has now all the virtues that it did have when making the cures which have won so strongly upon the confidence of mankind.

DR. MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON.

AN APERIENT AND STOMACHIC PREPARATION of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon, by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest medical authorities, both in Europe and the United States, and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried, it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

In Debility, Nervous Affections, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Incipient Consumption, Scrofulous Tuberculosis, Salt Rheum, Mismenstruation, Whites, Chlorosis, Liver Complaint, Chronic Headaches, Rheumatism, Intermittent Fever, Pimples on the Face, &c.

In cases of General Debility, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly re-appeared in the busy world as if just returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In Nervous Affections of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of Iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating: and gently regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency which forms them.

In Dyspepsia, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases.

In unchecked Diarrhœa, even when advanced to Dysentery, confirmed, emaciating and apparently malignant, the effects have been equall decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate Incipient Consumption, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In Scrofulous Tuberculosis, this medicated iron has had far more the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In Rheumatism, both chronic and inflammatory, in the latter, however, more decidedly, it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In Intermittent Fevers it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt happiness with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills price 50 cents per box; for sale by druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address, on receipt of the price.

All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

Holloway's Pills.

Nervous Disorders.

What is more fearful than a breaking down of the nervous system? To be excitable or nervous in a small degree is most distressing, for where can a remedy be found? There is one:—drink but little wine, beer, or spirits, or far better none; take no coffee—weak tea being preferable; get all the fresh air you can; take three or four Pills every night; eat plenty of solids, avoiding the use of slops; and if these golden rules are followed, you will be happy in mind and strong in body, and forget you ever any nerves.

Mothers and Daughters

If there is one thing more than another for which these Pills are so famous it is their purifying properties, especially their power of cleansing the blood from all impurities, and removing dangerous and suspended secretions. Universally adopted as the one grand remedy for female complaints, they never fail, never weaken the system, and always bring about what is required.

Sick Headaches and Want of Appetite.

These feelings which so sadden us, most frequently arise from annoyances or trouble, from obstructed perspiration, or from eating and drinking what is unfit for us, thus disordering the liver and stomach. These organs must be regulated if you wish to be well. The Pills, if taken according to the printed instructions, will quickly restore a healthy action to both liver and stomach, whence follow as a natural consequence, a good appetite and a clear head. In the East and West Indies scarcely any other medicine is ever used for these disorders.

Dsorders of the Kidneys.

In all diseases affecting these organs, whether they, crete too much or too little water; or whether they be afflicted with stone or gravel, or with aches and pains settled in the loins over the regions of the kidneys, these Pilis should be taken according to the printed directions, and the Ointment should be well rubbed into the small of the back at bed time. This treatment will give almost immediate relief when all other means have failed.

For Stomachs Out of Order.

No medicine will so effectually improve the tone do the stomach as these Pills; they remove all acility, occasioned either by intemperance or improper diet. They reach the liver and reduce it to a healthy action; they are wonderfully efficacious in cases of spasms—in fact they never fail in curing all disorders of the liver and Stomach.

Holloway's Pills are the best remedy known in the world for the following diseases.

Ague,
Asthma
Bilious Complaints,
Blotches on the Skin
Bowel Complaints,
Colics,
Constipation of the Bowels,
Consumption,
Debility,
Dysentery,
Erysipelas,
Female Irregularities,
Fevers of all kinds.
Fits,
Gout,
Head-ache,
Indigestion,
Inflammation,
Jaundice,
Liver Complaints,
Lumbago,
Piles,
Rheumatism,
Retention of Urine,
Scrofula or King's Evil,
Sore Throats,
Tic-Douloureux,
Tumours,
Ulcers,
Venereal Affections,
Worms of all kinds,
Weakness from what ever cause.

☞CAUTION!—None genuine unless the words "HOLLOWAY, NEW YORK AND LONDON," are discernible as a Water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box: the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

Sold at the Manufactory of Professor HOLLOWAY, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicine, throughout the civilized world, in boxes at 25 cents, 62 cts and $1 each.

☞There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

N. B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each box.

BEDFORD MACHINE SHOP!

THE subscriber would most respectfully announce to the farming community, and public in general, that he still continues to manufacture at his shop, in Bedford, Pa., the following farming utensils of the very best material, and in the most workmanlike manner, viz:

FOUR AND SIX HORSE TUMBLING SHAFT POWER MACHINES,

with large open cylinders, six staves, and spikes screwed in, and improved Straw Shakers attached. Their superiors for strength and speed are not made in this or any other County in the State.

Four Horse Tumbling Shaft and Strap Power Machine, with cylinder open or shut, as may be desired, for convenience, ease of draft, and perfect working, this machine has no superior any where. THREE HORSE MACHINES, of the same kind. Two and three Horse Tumbling Shaft Power Machines, a very convenient and excellent machine for small farmers, with or without shakers, single and double shovel Ploughs, Horse Rakes, Lever Cutting Boxes, Harrows and Wheelbarrows, made to order.

All the above articles constantly on hand, and sold on reasonable terms.

Repairing of all kinds of Machines, whether made here or elsewhere, done on the shortest notice.

Castings for all my machines, made at the Foundry of Shires & Jordan, in Bedford, and will compare with any made in the State for strength and durability. Blacksmithing done to order. All my work warranted to give satisfaction.

From a past experience of over twenty years in the Machine business, I feel confident that I can give entire satisfaction to all who may favor me with a call. Call and examine my work before you purchase elsewhere, as I am determined to please all.

Horses, grain of all kinds, lumber and iron, will be taken in exchange for work.

PETER H. SHIRES, Machinist.

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED.

Just Published, in a sealed Envelope,

On the Nature, Treatment and Radical Cure of Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal Weakness, Sexual Debility, Nervousness and Involuntary Emissions, Impotency and Mental and Physical Incapacity.

BY ROB. J. CULVERWELL, M. D.,

The important fact that the awful consequences of self-abuse may be effectually removed without internal medicines or the dangerous applications of caustics, instruments, medicated bougies, and other empirical devices, is here clearly demonstrated, and the entirely new and highly successful trestment, as adopted by the celebrated author fully explained, by means of which every one is enabled to cure himself perfectly, and at the least possible cost, thereby avoiding all the advertised nostrums of the day. This Lecture will prove a boon to thousands and thousands.

Sent under seal to any address, post paid, on the receipt of two postage stamps, by addressing Dr. CH. J. C. KLINE, M. D., 480 first Avenue, New York Post Box 4586.
